Proposal to eliminate 2 bus routes opposed

A public hearing was held Wednesday night on Bi-State Development District's proposal to discontinue two routes in Granite City. Opposition was voiced.

About 75 people, mostly senior citizens, attended the hearing at the Granite City High School. The routes to be discontinued next month are 532 in East Granite and 534 in North Granite, according to Gary Smith, a transit planner with Bi-State.

THE MADISON COUNTY Transit District will replace service dropped from the routes with Agency for Community Transit (ACT) vehicles, Smith said.

"The Madison County Transit District requested Bi-State to discontinue these routes," he said.

Jerry Kane, executive director of ACT, told those present that the service provided by the ACT vehicles will essentially be the same as Bi-State and follow the same routes.

THE CHANGEOVER from Bi-State to ACT would give taxpayers an estimated $230,000 a year, according to Kane, and cost the transit district $75,000 annually.

However, many of the citizens present were unhappy with the plan to change from Bi-State to ACT.

"Many of us don't have cars," said Virginia Schroeder, a resident of The Anchorage homes. "We depend on the bus for all our transportation," she said. "The bus takes you where you want to go and back home."

"RIDE THE BUS anywhere from three to five days a week," said Donna Gandy, a resident of The Anchorage homes and a student at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College.

Roberts said many of her friends at the campus depend on the bus as their sole means for transportation. "If they stop it, I couldn't go to college," she said.

Roberts told Bi-State representatives how satisfied she and others at the campus are with the present bus service.

"THE SERVICE is very good and the drivers are very courteous and have good control over the people on the bus," she said.

One resident, Evelyn Haney, 50, and Ruth Johnson, managing director of the transit district, a petition with over 900 signatures had collected opposing the proposed changes.

Several residents of Bell Avenue were there to protest about buses traveling down their street doing damage to their property.

Life here similar to Australia

From Queensland to Illinois

GRANITE CITY To hear Wendy Davidson tell it, there isn't much difference between Granite City and her home in Toowoomba, Australia.

Anyone who has heard Davidson speak might be surprised by that.

In Davidson's case, it isn't what she says, but the way she says it that gets attention.

"EVERYONE LOVES to hear me speak," she said when asked if her accent attracted attention in Granite City.

With her charming Australian accent, Davidson, 17, will be studying in Granite City throughout 1986 as part of the Rotary International foreign exchange student program.

During the year, she will live with four different families, including Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunt who have a daughter with the Rotary program in Japan. Other host families will include Mr. and Mrs. Neil Winters and Mr. and Mrs. Jan Langenstein.

Her first host parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffman. Davidson has been living with the Hoffmans since January.

When asked what was different about life in Granite City, Davidson didn't hesitate.

"It doesn't get this cold in Toowoomba," she said. "It's nice (here), though."

"Since coming here I've decided to learn how to teach. My host parents arranged for a teacher. I haven't fallen down much."

Sunday focus

Toowoomba is a city of about 85,000, about 80 miles from Brisbane on the eastern coast of the continent. Some of the main industries there are grain, meat, food processing and steel production.

"THE FOUNDRY back home is not nearly as large as the one here in Granite City," she said. "It has been a stable employer over the last several years, despite trouble with unions and conservative political climate."

Davidson came from an all-girl school with 500 students. She graduated with 82 other girls. Only the brightest students qualify for college, she said.

Davidson said she likes visiting Toowoomba, only the top 400 students are allowed to enter medical school. Only the top 1,600 enter law school. She called academic competition back home "cut-throat."

Though she has already adjusted, Davidson is taking elections at Granite City High School this year.

She is studying art, journalism and psychology, bookkeeping and physical education.

"There are a lot more course offerings here," she said.

School life has been the biggest adjustment for her. Like most Catholic girls' schools, Davidson's had strict dress codes.

"I don't have to wear a uniform here," she said. "Now, I've got to work out what I want to wear every morning."

"YOU GET A LOT more wear out of your clothes that way," Wendy said.

She said it was tough to get used to having boys in the classroom as well.

"I've never thought of guys academically, coming from an all-girls school," she said.

Adjusting to school life and getting to know perfect strangers have been the hardest things to become accustomed to, she said.

"I APPLIED for the foreign exchange at school and I wanted to go abroad for a year to mature. I chose the U.S., Canada or England. I also would like to have gone to Denmark. I refused to go to South Africa," she said.

Davidson said she likes visiting

Toowoomba, Australia. Despite the distance between her and her family, the 17-year-old foreign exchange student has had little trouble adapting to life in Granite City.

Granite City may develop a 25-acre parking lot in the city block between Eighth Avenue and State Street. A presentation by the recently formed Off-Street Parking Commission received Mayor Leonard Davis' approval Monday night at a City Council meeting. The commission estimates the lot could be built at a cost of $201,943.

Devils win

Jesse Hall (right) and the Venice Red Devils roared back in the second half for a 75-58 win over Lovejoy Friday to win the Dupo Regional. Hall had 31 points to send Venice into the Vandala Sectional, where they will play Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Details in Sports, Page 16A.

Group seeks school merger

A tentative proposal prepared for the Madison County School Reorganization Committee calls for combining the Venice and Madison districts.

The plan also calls for combining the Wood River-East Alton high school district with the East Alton and Wood River-Hartford elementary districts and combining the Warden and Livingston school districts with the Staunton districts.

A DETAILED preliminary plan for the Venice and Madison districts was approved by the committee Wednesday.

It will be the subject of a public hearing in Madison March 19, after which the committee will prepare a final plan for submission to the State Board of Education and consideration by voters in April 1987.

Because the two districts' voters would need to approve before the merger could take effect.

VENICE SUPERINTENDENT of Schools Robert N. Vickers said Thursday he had not seen any details of the proposed merger plan. "I think they are still talking about it," he said. "I am not sure if they are maintaining Venice schools at the elementary level and Madison for high school students," he said.

"Janet Wiley (Venice School District representative on the school reorganization committee) will come to the board meeting Thursday to update us on the preliminary proposal," Vickers added.

LOVEJOY SCHOOL District also has indicated some interest in going with Venice and Madison, but I think the committee believes Lovejoy may be better off going with District 189 (East St. Louis)," Vickers said.

Wade James, the Madison district's representative on the county committee, said Friday, "There is no question about it. It would benefit the students."

"It's too early at this time" to comment in greater detail, James said.

PUBLIC HEARINGS are set for April in the East Alton-Wood River-Hartford area and in May on the Warden-Livingston-Staunton proposal.

The committee and others around the state were established under a law enacted last year to provide a framework for reorganization.

Among reorganization goals are districts capable of providing a variety of high-quality educational programs, a more comprehensive range of support services, a more equal expenditure of tax dollars, and the most efficient use of educational resources.

MINIMUM ENROLLMENT criteria for districts are 1,500 for intermediate, 1,000 for elementary and 500 for high school districts. However, the decisions are up to voters, and the leading gubernatorial candidates oppose forcing mergers to occur.

The Venice unit district has an enrollment of 1,500 this year. Livingston 279, the Madison unit district 1,402, and the Warden district 202.

The East Alton elementary district has an enrollment of 1,031, while Wood River-Hartford elementary has 879.

The plan is being prepared by Stefan Krichniak, an education pro-

Mitchell plans 2nd fire station

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Plans to construct a second fire station are being prepared by the Mitchell Fire Department, the Press-Record/Journal learned Friday from Fire Chief Lee Paul.

The new three-bay station will be built on the southwest corner of Maryville and Old Alton Roads.

The present station is located at 215 E. Chain of Rocks Road, will continue to function as the main station. Two of the department's four pumpers will be assigned to the new station.

"WE ARE JUST getting together with an architect, going over some plans, but we hope to get started on construction sometime this summer," the fire chief said.

The need for a second station has been apparent for some time, Paul said.

We have a problem with railroad tracks, including the A&S (Alton & Southern) tracks. Sometimes we have to go to (Illinois) 111 and up on (Interstate) 270 to get over there. It's about 3½ miles that way," he said.

ALTON AND SOUTHERN tracks cross between Rock Road and west of the fire station. The main Penn-Central tracks, following Nameoki Road (Illinois 203), are south of the new site.

Hell or harmony?

In the interest of identifying and possibly solving some problems, Mayor V. Petish established a committee for senior citizens.

But the committee is being determined from within and without.

The challenged from within are senior citizens who want to know why the committee took a survey and dismissed the results. The seniors contend the committee didn't like the survey responses.

A committee member responded, "We threw it out because the survey didn't get to the point we were trying to get to. We wanted to find out what services are needed in this area. Instead we found out what seniors are concerned about."

The distinction was unsatisfactory to some senior citizens, including John Petish Sr. Speaking for several seniors at the committee's last meeting, he asked what should be done with the survey.

In addition to outside criticism, the committee is causing itself problems.

A fellow committee member, Juanita Crawley, said questionnaire responses were "thrown out because some people didn't think it came out like what it should."

The survey showed, she said, seniors need transportation, a senior center and nursing homes.

Criticism from within the committee fuels the criticism from without.

Another problem from within is some committee members do not want to be "political." They, therefore, seem to think they are above public scrutiny.

That the motivation for not being political may be good, the group is nonetheless failing to do its job if it is subject to the same meeting requirements as any other public body.

Committee members are not elected, but they work on behalf of Granite City Township. That means the public and press can attend the committee's meetings, according to the Illinois Open Meetings Act.

Some committee members just have missed this point.

At a recent meeting, committee members objected to being questioned by a citizen, they objected to a private citizen tape recorder being in the room, and they objected to a reporter's presence.

A shouting match between a board member and Petish was the last straw.

The majority of the committee walked out.

Providing committee members want to be effective, here are some things they should consider:

First, the public and press can continue to attend meetings. There's no avoiding it.

Second, no group can please everyone all of the time. Unfortunately, there's likely to be fair and unfair criticism no matter what the group does. There's no avoiding that, either.

Third, the committee controls what occurs at its meetings. Though the public can attend, the committee can limit the time allotted to a citizen to speak, and specify an agenda segment for public comment. Both moves would be unsavory from an open-government view, but remain as options. More satisfactory would be a good gavel to stop things from getting out of hand.

Since it is unrealistic not to expect disputes, committee members have a decision to make.

They can continue to walk out of meetings. Or they can renew their sense of purpose, face the challenges before them and use their talents to better this community.

Distrust and squabbling result in anger, but compromise and understanding lead to accomplishment.

In the interest of breaking down the barriers between senior citizens in this community, we advocate that committee members and all senior citizens share a common ground from which to forge a new beginning for the greater good of Granite City's senior citizens.

Everyone can provide some assistance in advancing research to halt Alzheimer's disease

To The Editor:

Your memory doesn't remember you. Your father can't find his bedroom. Your spouse doesn't know if it's day or night. This is Alzheimer's disease.

It is a cruel disease that kills its victims twice. First, it robs them of their memories and their independence. Then it takes their lives.

Alzheimer's is a steady, inexorable decline in the brain's ability to function. It can take healthy, bright individuals in the prime of life and turn them into scared, confused and isolated islands of humanity.

This quiet thief continues to differ the unique treasure chest that is its victim's memory. Routine tasks become monumental challenges. Concentration disappears. Judgment fails. Emotions go awry. Friends and loved ones become strangers.

All that remains is a tragic shell of a person, a heavy and constant burden to his or her family. Finally, curled into the fetal position, the victim waits for an anonymous death.

After years of struggling with "He-Man and the Masters of the Universe," my wife, Margaret, yearned for the feel of nipples and had me breastfeed a daughter. This time we would certainly start off differently, unlike the two prior occasions where I dutifully manned the traditional "waiting room," diligently pacing up and down, scanning cigarette ads and drinking coffee. I was in the delivery room itself, present for the actual birth.

Being a traditionalist by nature, I had balked at the notion of a father in the delivery room.

Since both boys were delivered by Caesarean section, the hospital policy existing at that time prevented my presence in the operating room. However, no such prohibition exists at Jewish Hospital of St. Louis, so for this time, I had no convenient excuse.

Up at the crack of dawn on Jan. 29, 1986, Margaret and I prepared for the birth of our new baby. Since this was a scheduled Caesarean birth, we had the date and time selected in advance.

After checking the horoscopes for the date of Jan. 29, good psychic vibrations forecast, Margaret and I set off for the hospital.

We sat in the labor room for approximately two hours, while the hospital staff prepped and prepared for the delivery. Soon enough, the time of decision had arrived.

After scrubbing and dressing — I even got to use the doctor's lounge — I was ushered into the operating room. Margaret was there, prepped and ready to go; she was extremely nervous and understandably excited.

The hospital staff had conveniently provided a foot stool for me to sit on as I watched the progress of the doctor and hospital team, keeping contact with Margaret the entire time.

My main job was to simply be there, giving comfort, holding Margaret's hand and making a joke or two at the appropriate time. Margaret told me later that my being with her in the operating room made a difference — that it helped her a great deal.

BPW program tells women

There is help for the abused

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — Social ills and what is being done to combat them were the subject of an information program sponsored by Gateway Professional and Business Women on Monday.

Wife beating, child sexual abuse, drug and alcohol awareness, and the care of unwanted pregnant mothers were discussed by five area organizations.

MORE THAN 50 persons attended the program at the Granite City Township hall. The program opened with a discussion by Barbara Young, BPW community involvement chairwoman.

There must be discussion of sensitive topics if these topics are to be dealt with effectively, Young said.

She illustrated this point by telling the story of a dinner party where a horse sat on the dining room table and no one spoke about it.

A DRAMATIC presentation on wife abuse was given by Phoenix Crisis Center Director Dennis Niedringhaus, Richard Ballew and his wife, Paula, together with Granite City auxiliary patrolman Rick Singleton and Carol Chiappa of Phoenix, performed a skit involving a man who beats his wife and his results.

Chiappa then reviewed what the organization has done in the Quad-City Area, including that the group has opened a safe house with the help of the area's Methodist church.

The house is at capacity and the group needs support to continue operations. Persons wishing to contact Phoenix may do so at 451-1008.

SPEAKING FOR THE Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center, Sonja Adkison said most sexual abuse against children is carried out by males who are married and have children. The crime, she said, is being reported on a wider scale now than in past years and involves all social classes.

She cited an example of a local church deacon who was found to have sexually abused a youngster.

The center can be reached at 1-692-2197.

Awareness in the elementary schools, with teacher involvement, can be used to curb drug and alcohol use in later years, said John Royce, representing the Elks.

ROYCE SAID THE ELKS will work with other groups to help the program. Royce can be reached at 875-2000.

Alpha Center for Women deals with crisis pregnancy situations, said center representative Mary Morgan.

Girls and women, aged 13-30, have utilized the center, which provides housing, emotional support and care to help make the individuals able to care for themselves. The center can be reached at 876-2900.

PARENTS US Director Keith Novak said there is an annual average of 28,000 live births to teenage girls in Illinois.

Some persons take the attitude that the girls should suffer the consequences of their acts, but Novak said teenagers are being told by society to get involved in promiscuity.

"We market according to sexuality because sex sells," Neuber said. He supported his point by quoting many statistics in drug and alcohol.

Coupling these adult generated messages with peer pressure, it is difficult for youngsters not to become sexually active, he said. For more information, his agency can be called at 877-4420.

A REMINDER FROM THE LAW TODAY

In the New York City, the district attorney is considering submitting to a grand jury charges that doctors and nurses at a certain hospital were criminally negligent in connection with the death of an 18-year-old woman. The woman, who was admitted to the hospital for an earache, died after she was given incompatible drugs, put in a type of straitjacket, and tied to a bed. Outside medical authorities have said that the action of the doctors and nurses constituted a gross deviation from proper standards of care.

The lesson in all this is not that all doctors and nurses are this bad. Rather, it is that the health care system even with the supposed safeguards of malpractice suits and doctor's disciplinary commissions — does not always work. The answer to making it work better certainly does not lie in limiting the rights that injured patients have now, as many legislatures have done under pressure the medical lobby. Moreover, the medical profession may well find — as the above example shows — that substandard conduct will not be tolerated by the public even in the presence of legislation limiting the constitutional right to a jury trial.

We will be discussing this and other matters on Tuesday night's program.

Billing system under scrutiny

By BILL BAGBY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The way Granite City handles its sewer bill is being examined by the city's finance committee.

A 1975 ordinance states that sewer bills have to be paid within 10 days they are mailed or a 10 percent fine and a $18 per month.

Varadjan said the sewer usage fee is compounded monthly for each month the bill is not paid.

"IN THE LAST several years, we have not been complying with this," said Jake Varadjan, chairman of the City's sewer finance committee and 5th Ward alderman.

Varadjan said the sewer usage fee is compounded another 10 percent.

not paid within 10 days, a $1.80 delinquent charge is added, bringing the bill to $19.80.

"Then for every month the bill is delinquent, another 10 percent is compounded."

"THIS IS NOT being done," Varadjan said.

He said a new bill design is being worked on by City Comptroller Joe Miklovic.

Demolition of four homes sought

By BILL BAGBY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City council passed resolutions Tuesday night providing for demolition or repair of four houses in the city.

The residences, located at 1410 Rhodes St., 2121 Nevada Ave., 2165 Madison Ave. and 2654 E. 24th St., have all been deemed dangerous and unsafe by city building inspector John Jakich.

The resolutions were introduced by Sam Whitmer, chairman of the ordinance committee.

Whitmer said a written notice will be sent to the owners of the homes and the city will apply for a court order to have the homes demolished or repaired within 15 days of receipt of the notice.

City renews chamber membership

By BILL BAGBY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Granite City will become the newest member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Granite City council voted at its meeting Tuesday night to join the organization, at a yearly rate of $2,500. This figure will be included in the city's budget starting in fiscal 1987.

"WE ARE TRYING to promote the city the best way we can," said Don Partney Jr., president of the Tri-Cities area Chamber of Commerce.

As a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the city can take part in its programs and support it financially.

Partney said the chamber's main thrust is economic development and it is mapping out areas of development in the community.

He said the City of Venice and the Madison School District are members of the organization.

GRANITE CITY MAYOR Von Dee Cruse and 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjehi are members of the board of directors of the chamber.

"I've attended a number of the meetings of the board," Cruse said, "and I can see what the chamber is trying to do for our city."

District 9 will review insurance

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff Writer

GRANITE CITY — School administrators were directed to prepare a comprehensive report on District 9 insurance coverages Tuesday night.

The school board asked Norman Owra, district finance director, to review all District 9 insurance holdings.

"Right now we're self-insured on some items and other items are insured through carriers," said Monroe Worthy, who chaired the meeting.

"IT DOESN'T HURT to review your insurance for potential exposure," Worthy said. "Right now, it's not easy to replace coverage. Business people and municipal entities have problems replacing their coverage."

Owner and school business officials from 17 school districts in Madison and St. Clair counties have been exploring the viability of an insurance pool that would be funded by member districts.

Owra plans to compare District 9's current insurance coverage with that offered by the insurance pool in a report at the March 4 board meeting.

"OUR PREMIUMS went up 127 percent last year and we got less coverage," Owra said. "We need to save money."

The 17 districts will meet Tuesday, Feb. 25, to adopt bylaws. Business officials from each school system then plan to present the insurance pool proposal to individual boards for adoption.

Districts interested in the proposal include Belleville Elementary, Belleville High School, Alton, Bethalto, Cahokia, Collinsville, Edwardsville, East Alton, Wood River, Granite City, Highland, High Mount, Edwardsville, Jacksonville, Marion, Roxana, Sigma Hill Elementary and Wood River-Hartford Elementary.

THE INSURANCE POOL would provide insurance for builder's risk, civil rights, civil action, comprehensive general liability including athletics and fire and extended coverage.

Other coverages to be included are mercantile robbery, securities liability, excess liability, vehicles, workman's compensation, earthquake, flood and mine subsidence insurance.

Bonds, machinery insurance, unemployment compensation and employee medical and life insurance plans would not be insured by the pool.

School districts have employed the law firm of Robbins, Schwartz, Nicholas, Lifton and Taylor Ltd. of Chicago to begin preparing articles of incorporation and resolutions for board of education to approve prior to joining the pool.

Membership fees will be based on the amount of annual usage, Owra said.

Federal cuts could harm city budget

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff Writer

VENICE — Federal proposals targeting drastic cuts in many of the domestic spending programs would seriously affect Venice in more than one area.

On Tuesday night's City Council meeting, Aldermen learned the Madison County Community Development Block Grant program is one of the programs which could have its funding cut substantially.

MAYOR TYRONE ECHOLS said the county Community Development Block Grant program would be reduced by 32 percent if the present federal deficit reduction plan prevails.

This cut would be the result of the Gramm-Rudman Act and a planned $500 million deferral of 1986 funds to the 1987 appropriation.

Last year, Madison County received $3,215,000 for its CDBG program. If the cuts pass Congress, this year's grant might be reduced to $2,186,000, County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer has informed Echols.

THE 1986 PROGRAM probably would be funded at the same $2,186,000 level, the county official estimated.

This amount is down from about $4.1 million granted Madison County in 1981. Grants through the program have been available for the past 11 years.

Noting the county receives funding by virtue of Venice, along with other communities, entering into cooperative agreements with the county, Hagnauer said, "This substantial reduction will impact all of us."

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT funds were the primary source of funding in construction of the new Venice, Community and Senior Citizens Center at Klein and Brown streets, plus housing rehabilitation, waterization and other projects in the city.

"We feel that we can live within the Gramm-Rudman proposal for 1986. This would result in a 4.3 percent across-the-board reduction," Hagnauer said in a letter to the Venice City Council.

"The $500 million deferral is the proposal which we feel is unreasonable," he said, adding this is the major portion of the 32 percent cut.

HAGNAUER SAID there is a chance Congress can overturn the deferral, which is being discussed in Senate and House.

He urged Echols to encourage Venice residents to write congressional representatives to vote against deferral.

Echols said he was pleased to see that Dixon and Simon U.S. Sons, Alan J. Dixon and Paul Simon (they said they would support this effort when they spoke in Springfield yesterday), 3rd Ward Alderman John Ervin said.

THE TWO SENATORS, both Democrats from Illinois, pledged to work with Congress in finding subsidies to local governments, including elimination of federal revenue sharing, during a meeting Monday with mayors from several Illinois communities.

Petitions are being circulated in Venice seeking to end the federal revenue sharing program, which will end in October unless Congress extends it by about April 15.

YOU CAN BANK on it!

WILLIAM PATTON
EXEC. VICE PRESIDENT
Central Bank of Granite City

Q. Is there any way of tracking the existence of a savings account? One of my sisters died some time ago and although we're sure she had an account, we don't know where it was kept.

A. Many bank associations, in a number of states, have a standard practice of regularly circulating lists of accounts which people are attempting to locate. Therefore, the chances of finding the account should be pretty good. It would help to know in what state or city she had the account or, lacking that, begin with the city in which she last lived. Write to the bank or banks within that city or state, and give as much information as you possibly can. Include your sister's name, social security number and her last address as well as your own name and address. It's a good idea to give the bank every way you think there may have appeared on the account. Your local bank will be happy to give you information on where to write and whom to contact.

Emphasis on truck safety to continue

Illinois has been awarded a $1.25 million grant for truck safety on Illinois highways — the third consecutive year the state has received the maximum award.

Illinois received 9 percent of the amount available nationwide for the grant, which totals $13.5 million. This will help assure continuation of Illinois traffic safety and hazardous materials enforcement programs.

These programs combined with law enforcement, driver education and a record number of highway improvements have all contributed to reducing traffic deaths in Illinois. In 1985, traffic fatalities were the lowest in 61 years despite more miles traveled and more registered vehicles," Gov. James Thompson said.

The Illinois Department of Transportation is the lead agency and distributes the grant funds to the State Police Motor Carrier Safety Section. The state- and federally-funded programs total $1.5 million for federal fiscal 1986.

Reuben H. Donnelley

We're changing our name but not our style.

One hundred years ago, Reuben H. Donnelley invented the Yellow Pages.

His commitment to completeness, accuracy and service has set the style of the Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation ever since then.

Without that commitment, a lot of people wouldn't meet. And a lot of businesses wouldn't do business. But because we maintain Reuben's style of doing business, people meet and businesses prosper.

As we start our second century, we're changing our name to reflect what we do better than anyone else—publish directories.

And although Reuben's name is no longer on our door, his style sets the tone of everything we do.

essor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and the committee that, while both the Madison and Venice districts are in good shape financially, combining them would result in increased educational opportunities, especially for Venice students.

The committee is considering combining high school programs for about 586 students at the present Madison High School. All elementary and middle school programs could be accommodated in the remaining buildings, including the present high school.

Venice's elementary school probably would be retained at its present location, Krcchniak said, and all buildings in the Madison district would remain open, serving the same grade levels.

Venice High School could be used as a middle school and the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center would remain open, as would the administrative building in Madison.

KRCHNIAK STRESSED his tenacious proposal suggested on feasibility and said the decision on staffing and use of buildings would be made by the elected board of any new district.

"There is little doubt that curricular offerings for students in the proposed district, especially at the high school level, will be comprehensive in nature," the report says.

Faculty

His topic was "Computer Literacy in the Classroom."

"Discipline: Replacing the Hickory Stick" was the subject of Peggy LeCompte, a teacher at John Junior High School in East St. Louis.

Programs, concerns and directions of the Educational Service Center at Belleville were reviewed by Dr. Shirley Clayton, director of the center.

Mrs. Leila M. DeToye of the Mississippi Valley Writers Project at SIUE was the final speaker, discussing the method of using "Some very obvious limitations for Venice" will be the elimination of grades 9-12.

The report shows Venice High offers 46 separate courses, compared to 62 in Madison.

THERE ARE 26 English courses at the Madison High School, while at the Venice High School, there are 15 basic education courses at Madison and five at Venice.

Madison offers 15 advanced placement and honors courses, and a high school gifted program, none of which are offered at Venice. Venice has a band program; Venice does not.

Sports and extracurricular programs are more extensive at Madison than at Venice.

PROGRAMS AT THE TWO districts are more comparable at the elementary school and middle school levels, but only Madison has a gifted student program.

Extracurricular programs are more varied at Madison, and Madison has a full-time counselor while Venice offers only a part-time counselor, the report says.

Combination of the districts could result in higher tax rates for those now in the Madison district and lower rates for those now in the Venice district, the report says, but exact figures remain to be calculated.

sentence combining to develop oral and written communication skills in the classroom.

Mrs. Altha Cross was chairman of the Venice faculty group responsible for arranging the institute day.

Members of the committee included Omar Butts, Dr. Sheryl Clayton, Miss. Peressia Dandridge, Mrs. Mary M. McDaniel, Mrs. Ruth Tuckin, Mrs. Connie Orr, Mrs. Sina Reeves, Mrs. Lena Rush, Mrs. Linda Kippings, who also designed the program cover, and Principals Kirkpatrick and Rush.

Visitation will be from 3 to 9 p.m. Sunday at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 201 Madison Ave., where services will take place at 11 a.m. Monday, Feb. 24, with the Rev. Manuel Tamayo officiating. Burial will be at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville. Memorials are requested to Central Christian Church.

ment for 37 years.

Thorngate Drive area can be blocked by rail traffic.

The Mitchell Fire Department has 27 active firefighters on its 30-man roster. All are volunteers.

THE PROPERTY on which the new station will be built belonged to the Metro East Sanitary District, which gave it some years ago to Madison County for a park playground.

"The county turned it back to the levee district. The land is overgrown with weeds and the play equipment has not been maintained," he said.

A triangular-shaped tract of land about 1½ acres, now has been dedicated to the Mitchell Fire District by the sanitary district.

"WE HOPE to construct something like the Long Lake (Fire Department) building," he said. The overall structure probably will be metal, "with a brick front and brickwork partially up the exterior walls," he said.

The Mitchell Fire Department is governed by a board of trustees headed by Gordon Burton. "The trustees are all for it," the fire chief said.

Paul has been fire chief since 1962 and a member of the fire department.

Area's native American crafts will be taught

Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling Inc. is holding Cahokia Mounds Historic Site and Cahokia Mounds Museum Society in a native American craft class program for children and adults at the museum. The Pepsi donation has made the Cahokia Mounds staff to increase in native American craft instructors, reduce class tuition and finance a children's program.

Cahokia Mounds' native American craft programs run from March 12 through April 2.

This year's program begins with a class in woodland moccasin construction on March 1 and 2. Dale Besse will begin the class with a discussion of various moccasin styles, color combinations and layout of designs for different historical tribes.

Students will construct a pair of woodland moccasins. If time permits, they will also learn how to bead the moccasins. The moccasin class tuition is $20.

Other upcoming adult classes are: netting and cordage, April 19 and 20; flintknapping, May 10; cane baskets, June 28 and 29; cane blowgun, June 18; Indian harvesting and beading, June 26 and 27; stone bow-making, Aug. 23; pottery, Sept. 13, 14, 20 and 21; stone pipe bowls, Oct. 11, 12 and 13; and buckskin tanning, Nov. 22 and 29.

The children's craft program begins with a flintknapping class for ages 9 to 12, June 14.

The 13-16 year-old flintknapping class is set for June 21.

A 9-12 year-old bead class will be held July 12, and 13-16 year-olds will attend bead class July 19.

An Indian pottery class for 9 to 12 ages will be held Aug. 2, while the 13-16 group will be held Aug. 16. A pottery firing for both age groups will be held Aug. 30.

For more information about the native American crafts, tuitions and times, call the Cahokia Mounds staff at 344-5288.

Devils eliminate Madison, 69-47

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

DUPO — The Madison Trojans had won 10 regionals in a row and had won 20 games or more for each of the last four seasons.

The Venice Red Devils put an end to both of those streaks Thursday night.

The Devils' tough zone defense forced the Trojans to shoot from the outside, while they did with little success. And Venice won 69-47 over their arch rivals in the semifinals of the Dupo Regional.

The win put the Devils into Friday's title game against Lovejoy, upset winners (89-80) over No. 1-seeded Vandalia on Wednesday.

The Trojans, again playing without center Eric Jacks and without two key players, rebounded, shot only 29 percent (19 of 70) from the floor in ending their season at 14-11. Madison could have kept its winning of 20-win seasons going by advancing to the state semifinals.

The Devils' defense did have one of that. Jessie Hall had 20 points in leading the Devils to their 11th straight win. They were 22-5 heading into Friday's game.

"We worked hard to get here, and this is what we've been shooting for," Venice coach Clinton Harris said. "It's regional time and we felt like we wanted to go out and play tonight."

Play they did. They spurred to a 24-14 lead after one quarter as Hall appeared headed for his greatest game. The explosive 6-3 junior had 12 points in the initial 8 minutes, hitting 5 of 6 shots.

Hall, an all-state candidate, was relatively quiet in the middle portion of the game, with only a single basket, but finished with 12 points in the fourth quarter, after the game was decided.

No person can't win a game for you, especially at this time of the season," Harris said.

For Madison Coach Rodney Watson, the season came to a sudden halt.

Warriors start postseason play

By GREGG OCHOA
Executive Sports Editor

Granite City, ranked No. 11 in one statewide poll, will begin regional action this week.

The Warriors are assigned to the Collinsville regional and will play Roxana in a first round game on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Collinsville will play Edenville immediately following the Warriors' contest.

The regional championship game will be Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Fletcher Gym in Collinsville.

The winner of the regional at Collinsville will advance to the sectionals at East St. Louis March 4-7.

Three other regionals feed into that same sectional at East Side. Here's a look at the matchups:

At Belleville East: Tuesday, Feb. 25: Massey vs. Belleville Althoff at 7:30, followed by Belleville West vs. Belleville East.

Championship game is Friday, Feb. 28 at 7:30 p.m.

At Cahokia: Tuesday, Feb. 25: O'Fallon vs. Cahokia at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 26: Lincoln vs.

"It's a tough way to end the season," he said. "That's as bad as we can shoot."

Although his team shot poorly, Watson said that wasn't an excuse. The Trojans were just the second-best team in Venice.

"They (Venice) did an outstanding job," Watson said. "They won the game on the boards, where most games are won. There is no one thing or no one person to fault. We were just beaten by a better team tonight."

Harris said the Devils came out in a zone defense to see how the Trojans would shoot. When they started out cold (7 of 23 in the first quarter), the team just got hot.

The Trojans' only lead was 2-0 and they had a 4-4 tie, but Venice scored the next 9 points. Baskets by Reggie Young and Lamont Johnson made it 13-8. But Vincent Harris connected on a 3-point play, then Hall scored two free throws, the second one a slam dunk off a quick drive down the left baseline.

Harris hit two free throws at the end of the quarter to make it 24-14 and Madison never got closer than 10 points at any time for the rest of the night.

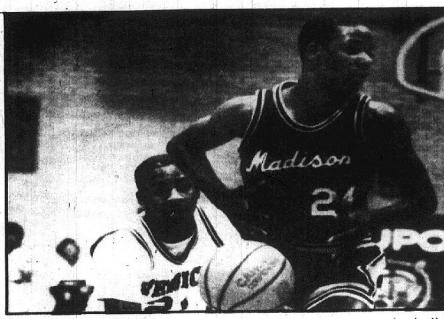

A big factor in the Trojans' inability to mount any sustained offense was the 1-for-11 shooting by senior Andrew Hall. "I think that performance was an unfortunate ending to the 60-guard's career at Madison."

"Anthony had a great year for us," Watson said. "When you get beat like this, there's no way you can play."

"Valentine had a good career at Madison," Harris said. "He was a good leader and he deserves credit for what he has done."

Also deserving credit was Young, playing for the first time in two years after spraining an ankle. He was obviously rusty, but the effort was there.

The effort was also there on the Venice side. Harris had a big first half offensively with 12 points (4 total) and Dale Turner turned in another good floor game.

The Devils might have something in Turner, a sophomore.

"Dale is our best defensive player," Harris said. "And he's coming along just perfectly."

"What a poised young man Dale Turner is," said Watson. "He's a sophomore, but really shows a lot."

Harris was not completely happy with the game, especially a rag-tag second quarter when the two teams combined on only 7 of 30 field goal attempts. At one point, the score stood at 28-16 for 3:30. The half ended with Venice ahead 32-20.

"We had the breaks but were making crucial turnovers. I think we made 6 in a row at one point. We were rushing and wanting to score too much. We just needed to slow down a little. We just needed to slow down a little and play."

Turner put the Trojans away in the third quarter as the Devils took a 50-34 cushion into the final period. And any hopes Madison might have had were dashed in the fourth quarter.

They were 3 for 15 in the second quarter, 5 for 13 in the third and 5 for 19 in the fourth.

Watson said he would be at the Venice-Lovejoy showdown and said there would be no edge for either side.

"There's equal talent there, great talent," he said. "It should be a great regional championship game."

The game was a chance for revenge for Venice, which lost 70-69 to Lovejoy in the first round of the Freeburg Regional last year, when the Devils were seeded No. 1.

"They knocked us out," Harris said. "We've talked about it all year. We've been in Lovejoy's shoes in Lovejoy's game."

The Devils made 7 of 10 free throws Thursday and were 31 of 61 (51 percent) from the floor.

Regional

tor stemming from last year's 70-69 loss to Lovejoy in the first game of the regionals.

"We weren't thinking about last year because we've already beaten them once," he said.

For Harris, it was his first regional title. He likes the feeling and is optimistic about the near future.

"We play like we did in the second half, we'll be in Champaign," he said. "I wasn't thinking ahead of tonight. All I know is we're headed for Vandala."

"We just had to do what we do best. Jessie had missed easy shots. He just needed to get rebounds and go up without dribbling. They didn't have anybody who could go up with him."

The game had its ugly moments. A cigarette lighter came flying from the spectators' side of the gym during the second quarter, and Judions Kiceart and Lovejoy's Cory Miller got into a shoving match early in the fourth quarter.

Neither was ejected, but they both were taken out of the game to cool off.

"(Assistant) Coach (Rick) Everage helped me quite a bit," Harris said. "He deserves a lot of credit for this."

Everage will have to share the credit with the press box press, which forced him into 1 for 14 shooting in the decisive third quarter. The Wildcats shot only 33 percent (23 of 70). The victorious Devils shot 46 percent (31 of 67).

Any more credit to be given, let's see, there's Everage and the defense. Oh, yes, there was a change of shoes...
